

History

History Objectid	737
History Event	Acquired from a dealer in Norfolk this engine was supposedly in good working order. It turned out to have excessive bore wear and a number of major components broken and glued together. The engine was deemed beyond repair with the facilities available at that time and put on one side for storage/spares.
Event Date	1998-05-12