Description
Image	 A large, green-painted steam engine is mounted on a wooden pallet. The engine has a prominent flywheel and various pipes and valves. A wooden frame with a horizontal beam is built over the engine. It is situated outdoors on a gravel surface, with a brick wall and some plants in the background. A green metal structure is partially visible on the right.
Thumb	 A small thumbnail version of the steam engine image, showing the same green engine on a pallet in an outdoor setting.
