Description
Image	 A large, green, vintage Universal Petrol Engine is shown in a workshop setting. The engine has a large green cylindrical tank on top and a green flywheel housing with the words "UNIVERSAL TWO PETROL" visible. A large black flywheel is attached to the side. The engine is mounted on a metal frame. A large black pipe or hose is connected to the side of the engine. The background shows wooden beams and a concrete floor.
Thumb	 A small thumbnail image of the green vintage Universal Petrol Engine, showing the same components as the main image but at a smaller scale.
