Description	Installation in progress, Summer 2019
Image	 A large industrial machine, possibly a steam engine or a large pump, is shown in a workshop. The machine features a prominent, large, dark-colored flywheel with multiple spokes. It is mounted on a concrete base. To the left of the flywheel, there is a smaller, more complex mechanical assembly. The workshop has a concrete floor, a window in the background, and various tools and equipment scattered around. A blue plastic bag is visible on the floor near the machine.
Thumb	 A small thumbnail image of the industrial machine, showing the same scene as the main image but at a smaller scale.
