Description
Image	 A large, dark-colored industrial machine, likely a steam engine or pump, is displayed in a museum. The machine features a large, prominent flywheel on the right side and a pressure gauge on the left. A green metal railing is positioned in front of the machine. In the background, a framed sign on the wall reads "Bath Gas Light and Coke Co. Ltd." and "ESTD 1870". The floor is made of reddish-brown tiles.
Thumb	 A small thumbnail image of the same industrial machine, showing the flywheel and the green railing.
