

Images

Objectid	1,114,736
Description
Image	 A large, dark-colored industrial machine, likely a lathe or mill, is positioned in a workshop. The machine has a long bed and a headstock with a motor. A large, cylindrical component is visible on the left side. The machine is resting on a red-painted floor. In the background, there is a window with a view of the outdoors. The ceiling is made of wooden beams.
Thumb	 A small thumbnail image of the industrial machine shown in the main image. It is a black and white photo showing the machine from a different angle, highlighting its long bed and headstock.