Description
Image	 A large green industrial machine, possibly a press or a mill, is shown in a close-up view. The machine has a vertical rod or shaft passing through a large metal band or pulley. The band is dark and has some text on it, including "MT 6220". The machine is mounted on a base and is surrounded by green grass and gravel. The lighting is bright, suggesting it is daytime.
Thumb	 A small thumbnail image of the machine, showing a different angle or a close-up of a specific part. It appears to be the same machine as the main image, but with a different focus or perspective.
