Description
Image	 A large, green-painted industrial machine, possibly a pump or engine, is mounted on a wooden pallet. The machine features a large, dark green flywheel on the right side and a complex internal mechanism with various pipes and valves. It is situated outdoors on a grassy area, with a gravel path and trees in the background. A blue strap is visible securing the machine to the pallet.
Thumb	 A small thumbnail image of the green industrial machine, showing its overall shape and position on the pallet.
