Description	Lube oil filter and suppression - Princetown
Thumb	 A small thumbnail version of the main image, showing the same mechanical room setup.
