Description	Unloading at the museum 3
Image	 A large blue DAF truck is shown from a side-rear perspective. It has a flatbed trailer loaded with a large, grey, industrial engine component. A blue hydraulic crane mounted on the truck is lifting the engine with four red lifting slings. The engine has various pipes and components, and a blue tarp is partially visible underneath it. The truck is parked on a dirt or gravel surface. In the background, there is a building with a corrugated metal roof and a yellow sign that says "Simplex". The sky is overcast.
Thumb	 A small thumbnail version of the main image, showing the same scene of the blue DAF truck lifting the engine component.
