Description	After arrival at the museum
Image	 A large, green, industrial engine, likely a Meadows model, is the central focus. It features a prominent red flywheel on the left side and a large, vertical green structure on the right. The engine is mounted on a concrete base. In the background, there is a grey brick wall, a large blue barrel, and a green metal structure. The setting appears to be a workshop or garage.
Thumb	 A small thumbnail image of the green Meadows engine, showing the same components as the main image but at a smaller scale.
