Description	Crankcase assembly complete
Image	 A man wearing a green and white high-visibility jacket, dark trousers, and a beanie is standing in a workshop. He is holding a white bucket of red paint and a brush, applying paint to a large, complex metal crankcase assembly that is painted a vibrant red. The assembly is positioned horizontally in the foreground. The background shows a cluttered workshop with various tools, equipment, and a yellow machine.
Thumb	 A small thumbnail image showing the same scene as the main image, but at a smaller scale.
