Description	Gauge end No 4 at Leatherhead
Image	 A large, dark, industrial steam engine, likely a marine engine, is shown in a workshop or museum setting. The engine features several large, circular gauges on its side, a complex network of pipes and valves, and a tall, narrow ladder leaning against it. The engine is mounted on a heavy, dark metal base. The background shows other industrial equipment and a yellow safety barrier.
Thumb	 A small, square thumbnail image of the steam engine, showing a different angle or a close-up of a specific part of the engine.
