Description	Looking down from pump gate valve
Image	 A large green industrial pump assembly is the central focus, situated in a room with red-painted lower walls and white upper walls. The pump is connected to a network of white pipes and has a blue barrel nearby. In the background, a doorway leads to another area, and a metal ladder is visible on the right. The floor is a reddish-brown color.
Thumb	 A small thumbnail image of the pump assembly, showing the same green machinery and white piping from a slightly different angle.
