

Images

Objectid	1,750
Description	Makers plate
Image	 A large, green-painted industrial engine, likely a heavy oil engine, is shown. The engine has a prominent brass makers plate on its side. The plate is rectangular with a dark border and contains the following text: "CROSSLEY-PREMIER HEAVY OIL ENGINE. CROSSLEY-PREMIER ENGINES LTD. SANDIACRE, ENGLAND. SIZE 100 ENGINE No 26558". The engine is surrounded by various pipes, valves, and mechanical components. A white circular cap is visible on the lower right side of the engine. The background is dark and indistinct.
Thumb	 A small, square thumbnail image of the engine, showing a portion of the green body and the brass makers plate. The image is a close-up of the engine's side, focusing on the makers plate and the surrounding mechanical details.