Description	On arrival at the museum in 2008
Image	 A large, green-painted vintage engine, likely a portable or tractor engine, is shown. It features a prominent flywheel on the left side, a large horizontal cylinder, and various pipes and valves. The engine is mounted on a wooden frame. The background shows a workshop or museum setting with wooden walls and a sign that reads "WORKING ENGINE".
Thumb	 A small thumbnail image of the same green vintage engine, showing a different angle or a close-up of a component.
