

Images

Objectid	2,924
Description	On arrival at the museum
Image	 A large, horizontal steam engine, heavily rusted and mounted on a wooden pallet. The engine features a large flywheel on the right side and various pipes and valves. It is situated in a workshop or garage with other equipment visible in the background.
Thumb	 A small thumbnail image of the steam engine, showing its overall shape and the large flywheel.