3,596	On arrival	 A large, green, vintage Lister engine is shown from a side-front perspective. The engine has a prominent, rusty flywheel on the left and a dark green fuel tank on the right. The word "Lister" is embossed on the front of the engine block. It is mounted on a wooden pallet. The background shows a grassy area and some debris.	 A small thumbnail image of the Lister engine, showing the same side-front view as the main image.
