4,087	Collecting in London	 A man with a grey beard, wearing a maroon shirt and a dark vest, is operating a yellow forklift. The forklift has a green steam engine attachment on the back, which has a large red flywheel and a silver cap. The engine has the name 'PETTER' on it. The forklift is parked on a dirt path with a dense green hedge in the background. A sign on the side of the forklift reads 'D.W. MECHANICAL HANDLING', 'FORKS LIFT', 'HIRE • SALES • REPAIRS', 'DRIVER TRAINING', 'BY THE HORN, CO. AND NORTH', and 'HORN, CO. LTD.'. The forklift is carrying a wooden pallet.	 A small thumbnail image of the forklift and its operator, showing the same scene as the main image.

4,087	Hall 1	 A large, green-painted Petter engine is the central focus, mounted on a black metal base. The engine has a prominent red flywheel on the right side. To the left of the engine is a red cylindrical fuel tank with the words 'STREAM FILTER' in white. Various pipes, valves, and a white pressure gauge are connected to the engine. The background shows a white wall with some blue and red piping. The floor is a reddish-brown color. The name 'PETTER' is embossed on the front of the engine's base.	 A small, square thumbnail image of the green Petter engine, showing a similar view to the main image but at a smaller scale.
