Description	Hall 1
Image	 A large, green-painted steam engine, likely a Petter model, is the central focus. It features a prominent red flywheel and a red steam filter. The engine is mounted on a black metal base. To the left, a red cylindrical tank with the text 'STREAM FILTER' is visible. The background shows a white wall with blue and red pipes. The engine has the name 'PETTER' embossed on its base.
Thumb	 A small thumbnail image of the green steam engine, showing the same components as the main image but at a smaller scale.
