

Images

Objectid	709
Description	Adter restoration in 2005
Image	 A large, vintage mechanical device, possibly a restoration project, is shown. It features a prominent green cylindrical tank and a complex arrangement of pipes, valves, and mechanical components. The device is mounted on a wooden frame with large, dark wheels. The background is a dark, textured wall, and the floor is covered with debris and rubble. The overall appearance suggests a well-used, possibly restored, piece of industrial or agricultural machinery.
Thumb	 A small thumbnail image of the green and orange mechanical device, showing its overall shape and color scheme.