Description	Power Hall 2 at the museum
Image	 A large, green industrial engine, likely a diesel generator, is displayed in a museum hall. The engine is mounted on a green base with a red-painted curb. It features a large, circular, silver-colored air filter on the right side and a complex network of pipes and hoses. The background shows a long, dimly lit hall with other exhibits and a corrugated metal ceiling.
Thumb	 A small thumbnail image of the green industrial engine, showing its side profile and the red curb it sits on.
